ADMIRAL WEDS COMMODORE'S WIDOW.

Annapolis, Md., June 7:—A multitude of gold-laced naval officers were present today at the wedding of Rear Admiral Albert Ross, U. S. N., retired, and Mrs. Charles Bartlett, widow of the late Commodore Charles W. Bartlett, U. S. N. The bridegroom is 67 years old and was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1861. After a career of much distinction he retired from the service several years ago.

THAW FIGHT WAITS ON COURT.

New York, June 7:—This was the date fixed for beginning the court hearing to test Harry K. Thaw's mental status, but by agreement of counsel the trial will be delayed to await the decision of the State Court of Appeals. The question to be decided by the higher court is virtually whether Thaw shall be given a hearing before a jury. It comes before the court on an appeal by the Attorney General from a decision by the Appellate division, which declined to make permanent a writ of prohibition enjoining Supreme Court Justice Hendrick from proceeding with the jury trial.

IN THE WORLD OF LABOR AND INDUSTRY.

Utah's 6 o'clock closing law went into effect May 15. Eight countries of Europe have laws against night work by women. Boston recently received its first full cargo of wool direct from South Africa.

In the State of New York 2,000 department store girls receive less than $3 a week.

Colorado is the latest addition to the States having workmen's compensation laws.

Platinum is reported to have been discovered recently in the Kern river district of California.

D. F. Lewis of Salt Lake City has been re-elected president of the Utah State Federation of Labor.

The annual convention of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor will be held in Superior next month. Workmen throughout England are demanding more pay because the war has increased the cost of living. The Aluminum Company of America has commenced the construction of a $1,000,000 plant near Edgewater, N. J.

The great ship building yards at Bath, Me., are reported to be busier now than at any time during the last three years.

A $4,000,000 company has been organized to construct one of the largest ship building plants in the country at Mobile, Ala.

The European war has caused an unprecedented demand for all kinds of American toolmaking machinery, especially lathes.

Since the beginning of the war the British Government has been buying immense quantities of refined sugar in the United States.

A big reduction plant is to be built near Marysville, Utah, to supply the acute demand for potash, caused by the shutting off of the German supply.

The big canneries in New York State are now canning large quantities of spinach and rhubarb, in addition to the usual lines of fruits and vegetables.

It is proposed to operate a line of steel barges on the Red River between New Orleans and Shreveport as a protection from advanced railroad freight rates.

It has been decided to hold all future conventions of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in the headquarters building of the organization in Cleveland.

Union plasterers of Boston have presented a schedule calling for 45 cents an hour, payment of carfare for out-of-town work and an allowance of $3 a week for board, time and a half for Saturday afternoon work and double time for night work.

ART EXHIBIT AT A. & M.

Miss Elmendorf, Native Texas Artist. Has Fine collection.

To the Editor:

There is now on public exhibition in the drawing department, Main Building, fourth floor, of the A. & M. College, a number of fine paintings by a native Texan, Miss Stella Elmendorf, of San Antonio. Miss Elmendorf studied painting in New York for a number of years, and is a pupil of Robert Henri, one of the greatest American artists of our time. She has contributed to a number of important exhibitions throughout the United States. She is also a graduate of the University of Texas, class of 1915, in architecture.

The canvases now on exhibition at the college are as follows:

Landscapes—"Sentinels Three," "The Enchanted Forest," "Four Studies of the Rocky Mountains in Northwestern United States," "Monarchs of the Forest," "Land of the Will-o'-Wisp," "Under the Cypress," "Marines—"California Coast" and "Seal Rocks, California."

Also a study of a young calf, "Daisy." Some of these paintings were seen by Mr. G. A. Geist during a recent visit to Austin. He was so favorably impressed with them that he secured them for exhibition during commencement. Mr. Geist, who is a real artist himself, thinks Miss Elmendorf's work compares favorably with the best paintings of current exhibitions. He says: "Miss Elmendorf's youth, her enthusiasm and unquestioned ability, together with her remarkable capacity for hard work that is productive of really excellent results, should commend her to all lovers of art, and especially to Texans."

I hope all the Bryan and College visitors will see this exhibition of a native Texan artist. The paintings are not on sale, of course, but it would, no doubt, be gratifying to Miss Elmendorf if several were spoken for during the exhibition here.

Yours truly,
SAM'L E. ASBURY.

A DAILY LESSON IN HISTORY.

One Hundred Years Ago Today.

1815.—Napoleon administered the oath to the members of the newly-created legislative assembly. This was one of the last official acts of the Emperor before his departure for Waterloo.

Twenty-Five Years Ago Today. 1890.—James C. Moffat, who began life as a shepherd boy and through his own exertions became eminent as a theologian and educator, died at Princeton, N. J. Born in Scotland May, 30, 1811.

A. & M. COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT

Thirty-ninth Annual Commencement Exercises Under Way. Many Visitors Present.

No Commencement of the A. & M. College in the thirty-nine years of its history, ever opened under more favorable auspices or more perfect weather conditions than the present. The great buildings never looked more stately, and the grounds, walks, driveways, lawns and flowers more beautiful or more perfectly kept. In fact the conditions are ideal and the setting perfect for the numerous and interesting functions of Commencement week at the State's greatest educational institution.

Hundreds of visitors are here from all parts of the state. Parents or other relatives of nearly every member of the graduating class, and of many of the underclassmen are on the campus, and all the campus homes and nearly all the Bryan homes are full of visitors. The grounds and buildings were thronged with visitors all day yesterday, former acquaintances were renewed, school-day memories were reviewed by the large number of "old boys" who are in attendance, and the day was a happy one for all.

President Bizzell and the other officials and faculty members were mingling with the crowds all day and a cordial welcome was extended to all.

The thirty-ninth annual commencement was opened formally Sunday morning when Rev. G. Lyle Smith, pastor of the First Christian church at Chickasha, Oklahoma, delivered the commencement sermon to the graduating class of 96 cadets. "The World's Trinity of Needs," was the subject of Rev. Smith's discourse and he pointed to Jesus Christ as the one ideal, worthy of emulation by the young men. Need for a more practical result-getting religion was stressed by the speaker, who said that the world needs concrete examples, not abstract rules; not merely creeds, but deeds; not theories, but life. An ounce of example is better than a pound of precept, he said.

The attendance at this year's commencement exercises is probably the largest in the history of the institution. The attendance of alumni is unusually large. Sunday afternoon the Ross Volunteers, a military organization, gave an interesting drill with arms, and the college band gave a splendid concert. Sunday night the annual address to the Y. M. C. A. was given and readings by Miss Gray of Terrell was an added feature.

A feature of the morning's commencement service were musical numbers by Mrs. W. C. Davis, soprano, and a quintet composed of Mesdames Davis, J. W. Howell, H. O. Boatwright, Geo. A. Adams and Miss Evelyn Sanders all of Bryan.

The exercises for today opened at 7:30 with guard mounting and at 8:00 o'clock began the individual competitive drill. This is always an interesting feature of commencement and notwithstanding the early hour, a crowd was present to witness the event. The result by companies was as follows:

Co. A—Perrin, S. E.
Co. B—George, T. J.
Co. C—Dennis, L. C.
Co. D—Schuhardt, D. V.
Co. E—Gray, O. S.
Co. F—Vance, J. W.
Co. G—Camp, P. R.
Co. H—Gallford, W. P.
Co. I—Connor, J. R.
Co. K—Hawes, L.
Co. L—Miniwether, G. C.
Co. N—Collins, W. A.

The remainder of today was taken up by inspection of the various departments and the hundreds of visitors were highly pleased with the insight obtained into the work of the students and the splendid facilities offered by the College in practical education. There was also exhibition drills by battalions this afternoon and the business meeting of the Alumni Association. The Alumni banquet will be held tonight at 9:30. The program for tomorrow is as follows:

Tuesday, June 8.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

A called meeting of the Commissioners' court, sitting as the County Board of Equalization, is being held this week to hear complaints by property owners who were called on their assessments. The session convened this morning, with County Judge J. T. Maloney presiding, and a full attendance of the commissioners. The session will last three days.

RECEIVED FINE BAROMETER

Local Weather Forecaster Jno. Daly, Jr., is in receipt of a Holosteric barometer from the United States Weather Bureau. The instrument was manufactured in France and is of the finest and most delicate make. It has been adjusted to the sea level, and is read according to the United States Weather Bureau map, or chart, and will be of great assistance to Mr. Daly in his work and in making reports.

ONE OF FARRAGUT'S SHIPS FOR SALE.

Washington, D. C., June 7:—Another old ship that has made history for the United States Navy is about to be junked because it has outlived the days of its usefulness. At the Navy Department today bids were opened for the sale of the old sailing ship Portsmouth which is now tied up at the Norfolk navy yard. The Portsmouth was one of the vessels of Farragut's fleet at New Orleans. Its last active service was as a training ship for the New Jersey naval militia.

How He Learned a Lesson.

In a murder case in Mississippi the principal witness for the state was an old negro man, an ex-slave. The attorney for the defense attempted by a severe and sarcastic cross examination to break down his testimony or at least make him angry, but failed utterly to do so. After the old fellow left the witness stand the district attorney said to him:

"Uncle Bill, I want to compliment you in that you did not get angry today, but answered the attorney so pleasantly."

"Marse Jimmie," said the old fellow, "I was a teamin' in dem woods over yonder 'fore you was born, an' I learnt den dat it's lots o' times jess es easy an' always more comfortable drive round er stump dan it is ter drive over hit, an' I jess 'membered dat fact on de witness stan'."—Los Angeles Times.
